THAT DICTAGRAPH
DOES THE WORK*And Played Havoc With the Dy-namiters—Silent Little Witness*WILL BE PERMITTED TO TESTIFYFollowing is from the Evansville Economist:—

That treacherous little silent detective, the "dictagraph," is playing havoc with the dynamiters and the Journal-News of this city feels called upon to say a word in the way of criticism of this sort of evidence. The Journal-News is afraid that this silent little witness will be permitted to testify against its new found friends, the dynamiters.

The Journal-News says:—

"The dictagraph, therefore, opens an entirely new field of evidence that may, or may not, under a thorough canvassing by lawyers and the courts, be admitted into trial records. Every consideration will be devoted henceforth, as heretofore to the basis principal of jurisprudence, in this country that a defendant is presumed innocent until he is proved guilty. What weight, therefore to attach to telephonic records of conversations, and how generally to admit them as convict-ing evidence, is the problem that confronts lawyers in the criminal practice and judges of the criminal and reviewing courts. Such a problem will arise, and an effort will be made to get a final ruling in the trial of the alleged dynamiters at Indianapolis. The assumption that a dictagraphic record is prejudicial to a defendant may be based on the fact that the transcriber of the notes may be in error or may be wilfully changing conversations to suit the purposes of the case. The instance of Max Himmelman, the stenographer in the Garry bribery cases, who says now that he forged the notes on which two convictions were obtained, as an illustration of the dubious side of the dictagraph.

So the Journal-News has found one instance where a stenographer practiced fraud on the court and forged short-hands notes, etc., and therefore it would be possible for the stenographers who took down the conversations of dynamiter Ryan and his co-conspirators, through the dictagraph might make false notes and do Ryan and his brother criminals an injustice, as they would be deprived of the benefit of a reasonable doubt. The Journal-News needn't be alarmed about Ryan and his friends. They will be on hand at the trial to swear the little dicta-graph and the stenographer out of existence. We would suggest that the most practical way for the Journal-News to help its criminal union friends would be to send a member or two of its staff up to Indianapolis when the trial is called and get them on the jury.

The editor of the Journal-News, by the way, is a great lawyer. He says, "the assumption that a dicta-graph record is prejudicial to a defendant may be based on the fact that a transcriber of notes may be in error, or may wilfully change notes," etc., etc. We would suggest to the lawyer of the Journal-News staff that the courts will not "assume" that a "fact" exists, and the defence in this case, when it comes up, will have to "prove" that the stenographers were in error or wilfully changed their notes of the conversations. The courts will not "assume" or presume that the stenographers were in error or acted corruptly, notwithstanding the influenced opinion of the lawyer on the Journal-News staff. For the benefit of the Journal-News (if it desires to get on the right track,) we will state that the little dicta-graph is used principally for the purpose of securing evidence for the detectives and the prosecution to act on and to confirm and corroborate the evidence already secured by the State, and the silent little detective, the dictagraph, will not be allowed to testify in open court unless it is first shown that it was Ryan's and his confederates' voices that were recorded by the little machine. If, for instance, the stenographers chance to be familiar with the voices of the conspirators and can testify that they are the men who were talking in the room and whose words were recorded, then the little silent witness, the dicta-graph, might be allowed to testify.

To The Public

I am in the Automobile Contest and hope to win; but I cannot do so without the assistance of friends. I ask that anyone who is not specially interested in the contest, and who has not pledged their votes, will vote them for No.
173. Anything you can do will be greatly appreciated.

R. F. D. No. 4A Delightful Tea

One of the most enjoyable teas was given by Mesdames Henry Rogers and Tom Stone at the handsome home of Mrs. Rogers Saturday afternoon.

There were sixty invited guests most of whom were present.

Little Misses Margaret Rogers and Kathleen Stone conducted the ladies upstairs to remove hats and wraps.

In the reception hall each registered and paid the small sum of ten cents then mingled together in lively conversation and in playing games causing much fun.

In the dining room delicious sanwich of chicken and cheese with coffee and whipped cream was served by Misses Susan Marie and Sarah Cruthfield Elizabeth Long and Margaret Kemp. The tables were decorated with cut glass and carranations making a pretty effect.
Mrs. Stone on account of illness was notable to be present to the regret of all. Mrs. Jamison assisted Mrs.
Rogers who is a charming hostess.

Think It Over

You go down the street seeking employment, and at every door you are "turned down." Why? Because you are not trained. Business men are looking for trained young men and women-advertising for them every day. If you want to qualify for a good position as bookkeeper, stenographer, or the like, take the Draughton Training. For catalogue, address Draughton's Practical Business College,

Nashville, Tenn. or Paducah, Ky., or Evansville, Ind., or Washington, D. C.

McGregor-Beshears

Miss Lila May McGregor, a charming young lady who resides in the country near Madisonville was married Wednesday at 2 p.m. to Hardie Beshears, a prominent young business man of Mortons Gap. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. M.
Bernard at his residence 428 East Broadway. Mr. Warren Ray and Miss Lucy Offutt accompanied the bride. The best wishes of a large circle of friends follow the newly wedded couple.

No More Dyspepsia.

SEMI-WEEKLY BEEFIRE ALARM SYSTEM
General Information

The city of Earlington has been divided into four Fire Districts, known as number one, two, three and four. These districts are formed by the two natural physical dividing lines,—viz. Main Street and the L. & N. R. R.

Fire District No. 1, comprises all that territory North of Main St., and West of the R. R., (e. g. the City Hall, Round House, F.
B. Arnold's residence, Pump House, etc. etc., are in District No. 1.

Fire District 2, comprises all that territory North of Main St., and East of the R. R., (e. g. the St. Bernard Store, Barnes, Cow-and & Co., P. H. Whalens residence, Masonic Temple, "Logtown" etc. etc., are in District No. 2.

Fire District 3, comprises all that territory South of Main St., and West of the R. R., (e. g. the Post Office, Goodloe's restaurant, Chas. Cowell's residence, Mrs. Harriet Browning's residence, Esq.
Jas. Priest's residence, etc. etc., are in District No. 3.

Fire District 4, comprises all that territory South of Main St., and East of the R. R., (e. g. the Peoples Bank, Victory Building, C. M. Henry's residence, Catholic Church, New Methodist Church,
etc. etc., are in District No. 4.

Each telephone subscriber in these Districts has been furnished with a card showing the number of Fire District in which each phone is situated,—these cards directing that, in case of fire, Central Telephone Exchange be informed of District Number and name of house "on fire". The Central operator will in turn notify L. & N. Round House, which will give the alarm.

The Round House whistle will in the future give the official alarm, and this alarm consist of a series of short blasts followed by one, two, three or four long ones, according to the district in which fire is located,—these long blasts indicating the district.
This alarm will be repeated as seems necessary. The L. & N. locomotives will not give the alarm unless an engineer or train men should first discover a fire (i. e. should see it before the regular alarm had been given)—or, in the event the regular Round House alarm should fail to arouse the fire Department at night.

WANTS BIG SUM

A. D. Noe and Albert Noe Sued for $28,000 at Hopkinsville

A special from Hopkinsville under recent date says:

L. B. Cayce and his son, Edgar Cayce, the young man who gained notoriety by professing ability to diagnose disease while in a hypnotic state, today filed suit against A. D. Noe and A. D.
Noe, Jr., of this city, for $28,000, alleging that they failed to carry out a contract by which they were to promote this alleged psychic power for a period of five years. The plaintiffs figure that in that period the company would have made $58,000 and that they want half of that sum.
The defendants deny that they are indebted to the plaintiffs in any sum, and state that at Edgar Cayce's request they turned over their contract to Frank Mohr, of Nortonville, Ky. Former Attorney General Breathett is attorney for the plaintiffs.

Card of Thanks

We, the undersigned committee of the Klub Kentuck Band, desire to thank the people of Earlington for their liberal patronage of our concert last week, and also the ladies and gentlemen, who so kindly assisted the band.

By the interest in our band displayed by our citizens, we are inspired with new hopes, and we will endeavor to apply ourselves even more assiduously than in the past that we may continue to merit your assistance.

PASSES QUIETLY AWAY

Miss Ada Shaver Succumbs Monday Morning After Long Illness

Miss Ada Shaver peacefully passed over the dark river yesterday morning at 12:30 o'clock, after a long illness. She had been confined to her bed ever since the first of December, when she was stricken by typhoid.
Naturally of a delicate constitution, she was unable to successfully combat the dread disease. She was a member of the Christian Church and was possessed of a sweet, lovable disposition. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pingree Shaver and leaves several brothers and sisters.
Funeral services at the house yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev.
W. C. Brandon, after which the remains were quietly laid to rest in Earlington cemetery, there to await the angelic summons which shall awake her to enter upon her eternal rest in the Eternal City, where no pain or sorrow will be. The Bee extends sympathy in this affliction to the dear ones left behind.

Notice to the Farmers of Kentucky

You are hereby notified that the State Farmers' Institute as provided for by law is, called to assemble at Frankfort, Feb. 27th, 28th and 29th.

All delegates will be duly notified through this office, but this notice is sent to the public in order that all farmers, irrespective of whether delegates or not, are cordially invited and will be accorded the privileges of the floor and are urged to be present at this meeting, as it is understood by your Commissioner, the law does not contemplate that just one person from each county should attend this meeting, but that all persons interested in the development of the agricultural resources of the State who desire to attend should be given the opportunity and the invitation to come to this meeting.

Women are especially invited and Feb. 28th will be in great measure, "Ladies Day." Some of the best lecturers on "Household Economics," Home Improvement" and "Woman's Place in Agriculture" have been assured and particular attention will be given to interesting the women of Kentucky in the improvement of home conditions especially in the rural districts.

Low railroad rates are expected. A good program has been provided for this Institute.

Any information desired further will be cheerfully given by addressing,

J. W. NEWMAN,
Commissioner of Agriculture, Frankfort, Ky.

Well Attended
To a discriminating audience an Everyday Girl appeals irresistibly and the very peculiar characterizations drawn from the beautiful lands of Virginia with their quaint manners and many conventionalities brings up memories of travel of descriptions read. The play gives great opportunities for scenic picturesqueness, which is fully embraced. The immense success of this play proves that this class of high class, pure wholesome comedy finds favor everywhere. There is much interest on the announcement of its appearance at I. O. O. F. Theatre at Mortons Gap, on Friday March 1.

FOR A LONG LIFE

Those Interested, Please Read

Fresh air and exercise, with proper food and a sufficient amount of sleep, are the essentials.

Under such a regime of living, germs cannot develop, and many diseases are prevented. Should the system require a tonic, take only such as you know their ingredients—such as Vinol, which is a delicious combination of the health-giving properties of the cod's livers with all the useless grease eliminated and tonic iron added, happily blended in a mild, medicinal wine.

For this reason Vinol is regarded as one of the greatest body builders and invigorators for aged people. It invigorates and builds them up, and keeps them up.

We sell Vinol with the understanding that if it does not give satisfaction the price will be returned.

Sons of Veterans to be at Macon

Much interest is being manifested here in the big rally to be held Friday night in the interest of the campaign of the Sons of Veterans to raise their membership to 1,000, as for the first time this body will be officially recognized at the Reunion encampment. All of the members of this organization have been indefatigable in their efforts to aid the cause of the Reunion and for that reason all interested in the Reunion will strive to make the affair a success.

Fully 2500 people with red torches will march to the Auditorium where speeches will be made by prominent citizens, Sons as well as Reunion enthusiasts.

Look!!! What's Coming

The next attraction that will hold the boards at the TEMPLE THEATRE will be the best and most interesting of book plays, of which most booked that are dramatized are without reason that one can scarcely follow the plot, such is not the case with "UNDER ARIZONA SKIES" that new state surprise, the boisterous Western type is eliminated and the play is of the kind that you can bring your mother, sweetheart or sister with the assurance that they will enjoy every moment of the play, MISS DOROTHY RUSSELL playing the leading role ably supported by a cast of rare excellence. This offering will be at the Temple Theatre, Thursday Feb. 29.

Miss Minerva and William Green Hill

By FRANCES BOYD CALHOUN

(Copyright, by Bell & Britton Co.)
As he rose from his knees he asked: "Aunt Minerva, do God work on Sunday?"
"No-o," answered his relative, hesitatingly.
"Well, it look like He'd jest hafter work on Sunday, He's so busy jest a-makin' babies. He makes all the niggers an' heathens an' injuns an' white chillens; I reckon He gits somebody to help him. Don't you, Aunt Minerva?"

CHAPTER VII.

Rabbits' and Other Eggs.
Billy was sitting in the swing, Jimmy crawled over the fence and joined him.

"Miss Cecilia's dyin' me some Easter eggs," he said, "all blue and pink and green and yelluh and every kind they is; I took her some of our hen's eggs and she is going to fix 'em for me an' they'll be just like rabbit's eggs; I reckon I'll have 'bout a million. I'll give you one," he added generously.

"I want more'n one," declared Billy, who was used to having the lion's share of everything.

"You all time talking 'bout you want more'n one egg," said Jimmy. "You 'bout the stingiest Peter they is. Ain't you got no eggs? Get Miss Minerva to give you some of hers and I'll take 'em over and ask Miss Cecilia to dye 'em for you 'cause you ain't 'quainted with her yet."

"Aunt Minerva ain't got none 'cep'in' what she put under a ol' hen fer to set this mornin'."

"Can't you get 'em from under the old hen? Miss Minerva is such a Christian woman, she ain't—"

"You done fool me 'bout that 'Tigious business befo'," interrupted Billy, "an' I got put to bed in the day."

time."
"Well, she won't never miss two or three eggs," coaxed Jimmy. "How many did she put under the old hen?"
"She put fifteen," was the response, "an' I don't believe she'd want me to tech 'em."

"They're 'bout the prettiest eggs ever was," continued the tempter, "all blue and pink and green, and 'bout a million kinds. They're just perzactly like rabbit's eggs."

"Me an' Wilkes Booth Lincoln ain't never hear teller no rabbit's eggs sence we's born," said Billy; "I don't berlieve rabbits lays eggs nohow."

"They don't lay 'em 'ept to East-er," said Jimmy. "Miss Cecilia 'splained it all to me and she's my Sunday-School teacher and rabbits is bound to lay eggs 'cause it's in the Bible and she's 'bout the prettiest 'splainer they is. I'm going over there now to see 'bout my eggs," and he made believe to leave the swing.

"Let's us slip 'xum' to the hen-house an' see what the ol' hen's a-doin'," suggested the sorely tempted Billy. "Aunt Minerva is a-makin' me some night-shirts an' she ain't takin' no notice of nothin' else."

They tiptoed stealthily around the house to the back-yard, but found the hen-house door locked.

"Can't you get the key?" asked the younger child.

"Naw, I can't," replied the other boy, "but you can git in th'oo this here little hole what the chickens goes in at, whiles I watches fer Aunt Minerva. I'll stand right here an' hol' my cap while you fetches me the eggs. An' don't you take more'n five or six," he warned.

"I'm skeered of the old hen," objected Jimmy. "Is she much of a pecker?"

"Naw, she ain't a-go'in' to hurt you," was the encouraging reply. "Git up an' crawl th'oo; I'll help you."

Billy, having overcome his scruples, now entered into the undertaking with great zest.

Jimmy climbed the chicken ladder, kicked his chubby legs through the aperture, hung suspended on his fat little middle for an instant, and finally, with much panting and tugging, wriggled his plump, round body into the hen-house. He walked over where a lonesome looking hen was sitting patiently on a nest. He put out a cautious hand and the hen promptly gave it a vicious peck.

"Billy," he called angrily, "you got to come in here and hold this old chicken; she's 'bout the terriest pecker they is."

"Billy stuck his head in the little square hole. "Go at her from behind," he suggested; "put yo' hand under her easy like, an' don't let her know what you's up to."

Jimmy tried to follow these instructions, but received another peck for his pains. He promptly withdrew.

"If you want any eggs," he declared, scowling at the face framed in the aperture, "you can come get 'em yourself. I done monkeyed with this chicken all I'm going to."

So Billy climbed up and easily got his lean little body through the opening. He dexterously caught the hen by the nape of the neck, as he had seen Aunt Cindy do, while Jimmy reached for the eggs.

"If we ain't done lef' my cap outside on the groun'," said Billy. "What we goin' to put the eggs in?"

"Well, that's just like you, Billy, you all time got to leave your cap on the groun'. I'll put 'em in my blouse till you get outside and then I'll hand 'em to you. How many you going to take?"

"We might just as well git 'em all now," said Billy. "Aunt Cindy say they's some kinder hens won't lay no chickens 't all if folks put they hands in they nests an' this here hen look like to me she's one of them kind, so the rester the eggs 'I jest be waste, any how, 'cause you done put yo' han's in her nes', an' a dominicker ain't a-go'in' to stan' no projeckin' with her eggs. Hurry up."

Jimmy carefully distributed the eggs inside his blouse, and Billy once more crawled through the hole and stood on the outside waiting, cap in hand, to receive them.

But the patient hen had at last raised her voice in angry protest and set up a furious cackling, which so frightened the little boy on the inside that he was panic-stricken. He caught hold of a low roost pole, swung himself up and, wholly unmindful of his blouse full of eggs, pushed his lower limbs through the hole and stuck fast. A pair of chubby, sturdy legs, down which were slowly trickling little yellow rivulets, and half a plump, round body were all that would go through. (To be Continued.)
